

November 5, 2009

Dear Colleague:

Greetings from Illinois Institute of Technology (IIT)!

Do you have an outstanding junior or senior with an interest in technology? If so, please nominate them for IIT's Center For Professional Development Book Award Program. Illinois Institute of Technology will honor the student YOU nominate with the book, Bricklin on Technology by Dan Bricklin.

We ask that you select a student that meets the following criteria:

- Junior or senior
- Exceptional academic record and character
- Interest in technology

Once a student is selected, please return the enclosed reply form by November 30, 2009. This form can also be completed and submitted online at http://www.iit.edu/undergrad_admission/teachers/bookaward_cpd.php.

If you have any questions regarding the book award, please contact Stephani Lawrence, Admission Counselor, at slawren3@iit.edu or 312.567.3965.

IIT offers a variety of majors focused on technology. The Bachelor of Information Technology & Management is a traditional 4 year program that focuses on the application and management of information technology. The program is taught using a hands-on, reality-based approach to education, in which students apply what they learn in class to solve real-life problems. Students gain knowledge of contemporary programming languages, operating systems, networking, relational database systems, and systems security, with a focus on integration in the workplace. This approach prepares students to become innovators, entrepreneurs, and leaders for the future.

Students majoring in Information Technology and Management may choose from a variety of concentrations including:

- Systems Security
- Data Management
- Internet Development and Electronic Commerce
- IT Entrepreneurship and Management
- Software Development
- System Administration
- Networking and Communications

At IIT, our mission is to advance knowledge through research and scholarship, cultivate invention improving the human condition, and educate students from throughout the world for a life of professional achievement, service to society, and individual fulfillment.

We appreciate your interest in the Center For Professional Development Book Award Program and look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Gerald P. Doyle
Vice Provost
Undergraduate Admission and Financial Aid

Enclosure

CC: Scott Pfeiffer, Center for Professional Development